There were concerns from a local business that the cap for the renewal was too high at $25,000. The City Clerk will obtain information on other cities rates and bring back to the Mayor and Council for review.

CITY MANAGER DISCUSSIONS/UPDATES

EpiCenter Update The theater wall is complete and a crane will arrive next week to begin the steel work. They are also working on the plaza wall.

Downtown Development Project Update – the car wash will be coming down soon to make way for the Iconic project. Nexus project is hiring another housing contractor that could work with the tax abatement plan. Solomon is working on other projects but will probably close on the property this summer.

Sugar Loop Greenway – Reviewing the alignments now and site work is next. This is all work that is required to design the first phase. In March there will be a friends of the greenway meeting.

Construction Update – the Assistant City Manager reviewed the construction that is underway. The gateway sign will be complete in the next 2 or 3 weeks. The next location will be across from HomeSpun on West Broad Street. The bowl improvements include work on the pavers to make sure they are installed correctly. They are still working on the splash pad. The roof of the amphitheater was repaired and painted. It had weathered and needed painting. New restroom signs were installed. The community garden parking lot started. They are laying the pavers in a herringbone pattern. The Goldmine park property is being designed. Construction will begin next year. The road resurfacing RFP was advertised and due by March 8th. That project will be complete this year.
