SUBJECT: Zoning Ordinance Amendment Article 4

SUGGESTED ACTION

Recommend approval of zoning ordinance amendment as discussed.

DISCUSSION

- Earlier this year, the City Council adopted an update to the regulations for body art establishments which included increased separation distances from alcohol sales, residential uses as well as other body art establishments.
- As currently written, the separation distances are to be measured in a straight line. However, the requirements do not clearly define how to locate the beginning and end points for each measurement.
- Using geographic information system (GIS) tools or other computer-based mapping equipment could be problematic particularly when those distances are close to the threshold.
- Other municipalities provide for a method of measurement that traces the most direct travel path a person might use to access the facility along the nearest street or sidewalk.
- The following proposed revisions are adapted from similar regulations and provide a definitive method of measurement which can be documented in the field without specialized mapping or surveying equipment.
