

Christine Graessle

Christine and her husband moved to Sugar Hill in 2012 and she enjoys volunteering in the community and participating in City events. Christine graduated from Baylor University with a BA in History/Political Science. She moved to the Atlanta area after receiving her JD from Drake University Law School and was admitted as an attorney to the State Bar of Georgia. She has practiced law in the area for more than 20 years both in law firm private practice and as in house counsel for Atlanta-based corporations.